Boroughs Unit Downs Planning

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pennsylvania Assn. of Boroughs went on record Wednesday as being firmly opposed to both regional planning and metropolitan area governments. Backers of the resolution contend this trend would take from the borough practically all its power.

Governors Reject Ike's Approach

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP) — The nation's governors rejected Wednesday the Eisenhower administration's approach to medical care for the elderly—with a strong helping hand from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Swift-paced developments, many of them tied together by political roots, marked the finale of the annual conference of the chief executives of the 50 states.

Rockefeller deftly and definitely left himself free to desert the Republican colors in November, but it was only for a time. The man who has been sniping heavily at the administration, both on health insurance for the aged and the issue of national defense, finally came out with a solid "will not bolt" declaration.

Word rained around the conference of Harry S. Truman's telegram to Gov. James T. Blair Jr. of Missouri, resigning as a delegate to next month's Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles. In its wake a new outburst of Kennedy-for-president talk blazed up.

No uncommitted Democratic governors grabbed for a Kennedy handwagon. But supporters of Sen. John F. Kennedy took Truman's action as an indication that the Massachusetts senator now is all but sure of the presidential nomination and that the chances of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri are dead.

The conference rejected a watered-down, fence-straddling proposal of its resolutions committee to go on record as urging Congress merely to pass a law providing for "a health insurance plan for persons 65 years of age and over." It voted instead, across party lines, for a medical care system within the framework of the Social Security program.

Rockefeller called a news conference. In effect he called again on Vice President Richard M. Nixon to take a more clear-cut stand on national issues before the Republican National Convention. And he upheld his right to take a stand of his own in conflict with the position of the administration.

The New York governor said repeatedly and in various ways that he had no intention of bolting the party—that he felt his views and those of the administration would draw closer together so he could support the Republican ticket and platform. But he left himself an out.

Demo Solons Plan Recess

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic chiefs of the House and Senate — overriding protests from the ranks — decided Wednesday Congress should come back to work in August after the national party conventions.

"We've decided we can't get through in time for people to get to the conventions," Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said in breaking the news.

Shortly afterward, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Rayburn's partner in directing Congress, announced he will offer a resolution to recess either Friday or Saturday and return on Aug. 8. There seemed little doubt the decision would prevail.

Opens July 11

The Democratic convention is set to open in Los Angeles on July 11; the Republican one to begin in Chicago on July 25.

One result of a recess would be to give the congressional aspirants for the Democratic presidential nomination, including Johnson, more time to talk with delegates at the convention scene before the voting starts. Johnson, listing unfinished business that ranged from appropriations to health care for the aged, said a postconvention session would enable Congress to consider the bills judiciously and in an orderly manner.

He said he had conferred with Republican leaders and House chiefs and that a substantial majority of Congress appeared to feel a recess was the wiser course.

But a number of members objected, saying such a session — with the election campaigns warming up — would yield little but oratory. Several contended Congress could do the job before the conventions, if it gave "an old college try."

Face To Face

A postconvention session in all likelihood will find the rival presidential nominees face to face in the Senate.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the all-but-nominate Republican candidate, presides over the Senate.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts is rated the front runner for the Democratic presidential nomination, with Johnson and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, other leading contenders.

Truman To Shun Demos Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman jolted his beloved Democratic party Wednesday with the blunt announcement he will not attend its national convention next month. He refused to say why just now. Some saw in the surprise statement an indication that he has given up hope that his fellow Missourian, Sen. Stuart Symington, can win the nomination.

Bangor Board Will Meet With Firms

BANGOR — The Bangor Area Joint School Committee met at their regular July meeting yesterday and arranged for the August 3rd meeting of two firms manufacturing heating equipment.

They will appear to present material for a new senior high school building. The new school will have electrical heat. Marshall Pysner was the fourth applicant for position of "Clerk of the Works" for the new building. The Board made tentative arrangements to interview the new applicant.

The appointment for the clerk is to be made in August. July 12 the Board meets with the School Authority to finalize construction plans.

Architect H. F. Everett of Everett Associates, Allentown, announced the new building would be done between September 1961 and January 1962. Construction will begin at the end of July.

Upper Mt. Bethel parents who attended last night's meeting are urged to attend educational committee meeting to formulate plans for additional Kindergarten classes.

John W. Sabatine, Elementary Supervisor, said 47 children in Upper Mt. Bethel are ready for Kindergarten, six in Portland, 64 in Bangor, 14 in Roseto, and 36 in Washington Township.

The Board will try to arrange for Kindergartens in Upper Mt. Bethel, Portland, and Washington.

They set July 21 as the opening date for bids on supplies and equipment to the new school. Six classrooms were supplied furniture this year. Dr. George Eichler of Portland was named to the list of Medical Inspectors of Schools.

Three Openings Donald B. Keat, Superintendent of Schools in the area, said three openings are available for elementary teachers.

The Commission authorized the purchase of $1153 of cafeteria equipment, and 100 steel chairs from the Lincoln Co. of Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON (AP) —

A budget surplus of 500 million dollars or more—the first in three years—is in prospect for the 1960 fiscal year that ends Thursday night.

The surplus will be more than double the 217-million-dollar fiscal cushion which President Eisenhower forecast in his January budget message to Congress. Revenues will exceed the predicted $78,600,000,000 while spending will fall short of the anticipated level of $78,383,000,000.

Within the administration, officials still are debating whether to try to make political hay by having Eisenhower announce the appropriate dimensions.

Some rough figures probably will be available within a week. However, some officials are urging that the administration follow the customary course of withholding any announcement until more exact calculations can be made about July 20.

Since another budget surplus is expected in the coming fiscal year, the administration hopes to go out of office with a 500-balling average of balancing the federal accounts. Four Eisenhower budgets have been in the red, by more than 20 billion dollars in all, and four are expected to show surpluses totaling about seven billion dollars.

For the fiscal year which is now ending, the question of a surplus or deficit was decided only in the past few weeks.

Officials were saying about three months ago that they could hope for only a bare balance because of a drop in receipts from corporation income taxes. This drop was occasioned by last year's steel strike.

Since then, the administration has discovered that revenues from individual income tax have risen more than enough to offset the decline in receipts from corporations.

Predicts For fiscal 1961, which begins Friday, Eisenhower predicted a surplus of $4,200,000,000. It now seems likely that the margin will be smaller, partly because of spending increases and partly because Congress has rejected a number of Eisenhower's new revenue proposals, including higher postal rates.

Chief discussion during the session, was the '59-60 budget. The board approved a motion to pay $4,280.30 in outstanding bills. It was reported that the total included 13 months of power bills and other liabilities not normally paid until next month.

It was also reported that reimbursement from the state for '60 fiscal year would total $551,303.29; plus $31,864.67 balance still due to the district for a total of $583,167.94.

Indebtedness of some $90,430.30 and assets totalling some $69,479.81 were reported. The school district will begin the next fiscal year with indebtedness of some $20,000.

A discussion of tax exonerations and whether such a provision visited was held. It was questioned whether the "deletion" or "exonerated" taxpayers provision is feasible. The belief was that there are no tax exonerations in the collections itself, although some deletions (of taxpayers) were possible, for various reasons.

New Issues A new issue was brought to the fore in that building was in need of insulation to certain rooms. The insulation would provide badly needed sound-proofing. The movement, costing $80, was passed.

Included in the meeting was the request that the school district provide half the payment for resurfacing an alley located near the Ramsey School. An $189.20 estimate on the job was given. An adjoining property owner reported that he would pay the other half of the bill if the job was agreeable to the board.

The school board were uncertain as to whether they could fulfill such a request. The board decided not to take any immediate action on the suggestion.

In other business, the board decided to accept the lowest bid on the purchase of six new school bus tires. The Firestone Co., won the bid with its figure of $52.50 per tire. The board rendered its decision on the fact that it was the lowest bid in addition to the fact that the other bidders also classified their tire sales as "first line tires."

Test Fire Missiles WASHINGTON (AP)—Nike-Zeus antimissile missiles will be test-fired against fast-moving Atlas-ICBMs—comparable to those the Soviet Union might send against the United States—rather than against slower Jupiter-mediator-range rockets.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic sources said Wednesday Moscow plans to send a onetime spy in North America, Sergei M. Kudryavtsev, 52, as the first Soviet ambassador to the Cuban government of Fidel Castro.

Kudryavtsev, whose most recent post was minister consular at the Soviet Embassy in Paris, is expected to arrive in Havana in a few weeks.

The Soviet diplomat-spy is reported to have a pleasant personality outwardly and a talent for languages.

In the early 1940s, according to information available here, he headed a Soviet spy ring in Canada. He was first secretary of the Soviet legation in Ottawa from 1942 to 1945.

The espionage activities were exposed after a code clerk, Igor Guzenko, defected in 1945.

Cubans Seize Yank Refinery

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro seized one of the two American-owned oil refineries in Cuba Wednesday after bitterly telling a mass meeting he was ready to take over the property of all Americans in Cuba "down to the nails in their shoes."

The seizure order against the Texaco Oil Co.'s 25-million-dollar plant in Santiago followed refusal of three companies—two American and one Dutch-British — to process Soviet crude oil bought from the Soviet Union with Cuban sugar.

Castro ordered his National Institute of Petroleum to intervene — a practice here equal to confiscation — the Texaco plant unless its operators accepted 25,000 barrels of Soviet crude and processed it. Company officials had orders to refuse, the oil. Intervention, backed by armed workers and militiamen already in virtual control of the Santiago refinery, resulted.

Agents of Castro's petroleum institute took over the Havana headquarters of Texaco an hour later, it was reported. Presumably the seizure included Texaco's marketing organization in Cuba as well.

Castro, in his formal resolution accused Texaco of violating a 1938 law which directs all refineries in Cuba to refine "state-owned" oil at the orders of the government.

The two other companies, Esso Standard of New Jersey and Shell Oil, said they had not been molested as yet.

The three companies have said they cannot process the Soviet oil because they have obligations to their traditional suppliers, in this case Venezuela.

Castro contends he can buy Soviet crude oil for $1 a barrel under the Venezuelan price.

The companies have a 75-million-dollar investment in Cuba plus an estimated 60 million dollars in foreign exchange the Castro government owes them for crude oil already imported and processed.

Petroleum sources here said Castro's seizure of the Texaco refinery may have resulted in part from the oil company's slow-down on imports of crude oil to the point where its storage tanks were virtually empty. This action resulted, officials said, from the Castro government's refusal to release foreign exchange to pay for past oil imports.

The U.S. Embassy had no comment on the seizure except to say the situation was being watched closely.

The seizure climaxed Castro's most bitter attack on the United States since relations between the two governments began to deteriorate months ago. Americans who heard his 24-hour diatribe against the United States Tuesday night described it as "openly and deliberately insulting."

Horace with anger, Castro told his followers the United States was decadent and called the new sugar act being deliberated by Congress, immoral, stupid and criminal.

The bill would give President Eisenhower full authority to fix the amount of sugar Cuba may sell in this country. As Cuba receives two cents a pound above the world price for her quota, restriction would have economic repercussions.

In his long and bitter anti-American attack Tuesday night, Castro warned that for every pound cut by the United States from Cuba's sugar quotas, his government will take one of the 30 American-owned sugar mills here.

The American mills, which produce a third of Cuba's sugar, are valued at from 100 to 300 million dollars.

Sensational Broadway Hit At Playhouse Next Week

THE SENSATIONAL Broadway hit, "West Side Story" is scheduled for the next attraction at Pocono Playhouse in Mountainhome, Pa., beginning Monday night, July 4. Byrne Piven and Gerianne Raphael, well known musical personalities, will have the leading roles. Four great names in the theatrical and musical world combined their efforts in the production of "West Side Story." The book was written by Arthur Laurents, music by Leonard Bernstein, lyrics by Stephen Sondheim, all based on a conception by Jerome Robbins.

Acclaimed as the most exciting thing that has hit the theater since "My Fair Lady," this story, with music, provides an eye-popping, ear-soothing, conscience-busting combination as it builds up moments of theatrical beauty. The patterns of movement evolve around a modern Romeo and Juliet story set in upper Manhattan's street gang district where the romance of a Puerto Rican girl and a native boy moves to an exciting climax of a resplendent blend of music and dance and humor and tragedy.

Byrne Piven is a native of Scranton, Pa., and has gone far in the theatrical world since receiving the Madsen Drama Award from Syracuse University in 1951. His first stage debut was in an off-Broadway production of "Léon" followed by the musical version of "Milk and Honey" and "Jack Knife," which he directed. He also appeared at the Phoenix Theater and for three years was actor and director with Chicago's famed Playwright Theater. More recently he directed the tour of "Say, Darling."

Miss Raphael was standby for Carol Lawrence in the starring role in "Saratoga" and was featured in the Broadway musical

Teacher Jailed As Burglar Charged With Slaying Man

HARRISBURG (AP)—A social science teacher—his clothes soaking wet—was arrested as a burglar suspect Wednesday. Then charged with the slaying of a Gettysburg tailor.

Edward Wilcox Hepford, a 47-year-old ex-Marine who ran unsuccessfully for the Republican nomination for Congress two years ago, was taken into custody by Harrisburg police an hour after discovery of a partially submerged automobile.

The car, sunken within a hundred feet of the city's Taylor Bridge, held the body of Richard McConly Mattingly, 31, who operated a tailor shop and lived with his mother in Gettysburg. He had been shot in the abdomen and arm.

Admitted Being in Car. Police Chief Russell R. Shott said Hepford admitted being in the car with Mattingly at the time of the shooting. The car shot out of a side street, across Front Street, plummeted through the Riverside Park and into the Susquehanna River.

Hepford was drenched when the car hit the water. Three youths discovered the car in the water at dawn. An hour later Hepford was arrested outside an unoccupied 2nd St. residence which he said belongs to his wife.

Detective Arthur E. Burlew Jr., of the Harrisburg police, quoted Hepford as saying the two men met at a diner. Burlew said Hepford declared: "He (Mattingly) was bugging me. I didn't like it, so I went home and got my pistol and retained to the diner. I was going to bug him."

Burlew said Hepford told the police the two men got into Mattingly's car. The car went into the river a short time later.

Coroner T. J. Fritchey, of Dauphin County, was not available to disclose the results of an autopsy on Mattingly.

George W. Spangler, of North Front St., reported to police that his home had been burglarized. He later identified Hepford. An anonymous call reported a man breaking into the North 2nd St. home. It was while investigating that call that police arrested Hepford.

Hepford was charged before Alderman John L. Madden Jr., at the direction of Dist. Atty. Martin H. Lock.

State Authority Gets Bonds Bid

The bid was submitted by Halsey Stuart & Co., New York. The bond will carry a net interest rate of 4.0673 per cent. The PSBA awarded the contract to the firm.

A syndicate headed by Drexel & Co., New York, offered the same bid but stipulated a net interest cost of 4.120055 per cent.

The difference in interest to the authority would have amounted to $390,188.

Navy Arrives To Distress

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Navy destroyer and a merchant vessel arrived at the scene of a sinking 501-foot tanker off the Georgia coast last night and began picking up the 44 crewmen who had abandoned ship. A short while before the destroyer USS Robinson, reported arriving at the scene, the radioman on the stricken tanker, the SS George Macdonald, said lifeboats were going over the side. He said, "The cap'n will keep putting them over until he gets in the last one."

Coast Guard headquarters

here said the tanker SS Esso Scranton would pick up the crewmen from the Macdonald. It was not known where they would be taken to port. The Coast Guard said water boxes on the Macdonald's main condenser had blown up in the engine room, below water level. In a short time the engine room and crew quarters were flooded, and the vessel's stern turned downward. The Macdonald's position was 160 miles east of Savannah, Ga.

Kennedy Runs Lead To 523

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts ran his unofficial lead for the Democratic presidential nomination to 523-delegate votes yesterday with 761 necessary for a nomination.

Kennedy gained 37½ votes in an Associated Press poll of Michigan's 51-vote delegation hitherto bound to favorite son Gov. G. Mennen Williams. The governor recently announced for Kennedy, technically releasing the delegates from their pledges.

Kennedy also picked up a vote in Utah and half a vote in Idaho after rechecks of those delegations.

The Michigan poll, still incomplete, also added a few votes each to the delegate columns of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and Adlai E. Stevenson.

The unofficial standings stood this way last night:

Kennedy 523, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas 204½, Symington 37½, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota 33½, Stevenson 33½, favorite sons and others, 205, uncommitted 357-total 1,450 out of convention total of 1,521.

Testimony Set To Start

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Testimony started yesterday in the trial of five men accused by the state of involuntary manslaughter as the result of the Knox mine disaster at Port Griffith.

The opening sessions of the trial last week were spent in picking a jury of seven women and five men and in conferences to agree what evidence can be presented by stipulation.

On trial are August J. Lippi, president of United Mine Workers District 1; Louis Fabrizio, president and treasurer of the defunct Knox Coal Co.; Robert L. Dougherty, former Knox president, and Fritz Renner and Ralph Fries, engineers for Pennsylvania Coal Co. which leased the Knox mine to the defunct firm.

The state says safety precautions were violated in allowing mining at Port Griffith too far under the Susquehanna River. The ice choked river broke through the mine on Jan. 22, 1959, killing 12 miners.

The trial here is under a change of venue from Luzerne County.

Exchange Students

Though our international exchange of students and faculty continues to increase in volume, some change in trends are discernible.

While the number of foreign students here in the 1959-'60 college year hit a new high of 48,486, according to the Institute of International Education, the increase over the previous year was only 2.6%. That was a very modest rise compared to the 8.8% by which 1958-'59 foreign student enrollment exceeded the total for the year before.

One wonders whether European and Russian universities are competing more effectively than before for these foreign students. Or has the rather sharp rise in college costs here checked the increase?

More than 38% of the foreign students here last year were paying their own expenses, according to the institute's report. That was a decrease of almost 4% for the year, and it apparently reflected added scholarship funds and other aids available.

The figures seem to indicate, however, that "prestige of our schools is as much a factor in attracting students as the availability of scholarships," according to the institute. The University of Wisconsin was eighth among American universities last year in number of foreign students, with 806, but trailed the University of Minnesota, University of Michigan and University of Illinois.

The far east, with 17,175 students here, and Latin America, with 9,428, accounted for considerably more than half of the influx. The near and middle east sent 7,110 and Europe 6,362. Canada sent more than any other one country—5,679.

The number of American students going abroad increased by a whopping 34% over the 1958-'59 total. Europe got the lion's share. Some American educators are beginning to wonder aloud whether too many are going 'because it's adventure, a change and "the thing to do" nowadays rather than for serious study and better acquaintance with the world and its problems.

Opinions Of Other Editors

'Growthmanship'

One of the most fascinating aspects of "growthmanship" is the growthmen's total immersion in the set of statistics that seems to support their case. Now they are seizing upon a report by the Central Intelligence Agency which estimates that Russia's gross national product by 1970 will increase about 80%.

For those interested in gee-whiz statistics, that certainly seems to indicate an amazing growth. Yet, even if one is to disregard the manifold difficulties in comparing Russian and American economic growth, including the question whether "gross national product" is at all meaningful, the figure still doesn't prove that the Soviet Union is surging ahead of the U.S.

To assume that this growth rate for Russia, even if accurate, would mean eclipsing the United States economically calls for some even more unlikely assumptions.

The statistics, dubious as they may be, show that the 80% increase in Russia's gross national product would lift it to $420 billion annually. How would that then, compare with the U.S.?

Well, if one should assume the very dubious, that there would be no increase whatsoever in America's G.N.P., the Russian figure for 1970 would be somewhat less than what this country had 12 years earlier, back in 1958. To actually pass the U.S., Russia would have to depend on the even more dubious proposition that the economy of the U.S. actually would shrink.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Day At Sports Events

Unaccustomed as I am to the great outdoors life, I thought that I would go to a baseball game and a trotting race and a prize fight. The baseball game was most amusing. I went with Jim Farley, the distinguished Democrat, and he told me what was going on in the Democratic Party, which spiced the ball game, that I am told, was an extraordinarily good one.

The trotting race, I witnessed from indoors. The trotters were outside, running hither and yon, but we sat behind windows, having our dinner, while the trotters trotted. They seemed to be doing very nicely. I bet on each race and came out $23 ahead, which means that I am now an expert in picking horses. The way I picked them was going along with certain numbers which sometimes came out well and other times badly. I won half of a daily double, but I was told that half was equal to nothing, which denies the old adage that half a loaf is better than none.

The fight that I went to was ballyhooed as the greatest. I had gone to a prize fight once before and had a ringside seat which seemed a mile from the ring — so I saw nothing and have little memory of the ordeal. The Johansson-Patterson fight started in the Stork Club where were gathered a multitude of politicians, lawyers, journalists and beautiful women. It was a pre-flight celebration. For me, it was the best part of the evening as I saw many friends, kissed politely delightful girls, saw the philosopher, Max Lerner, freshly returned from India, watched Roy Cohn act as host in his new role of a fight promoter, and saw William Fugazy wear a pink dinner jacket and a scalloped dress shirt.

Then we drove up to the Polo Grounds where the Giants used to play ball. Well, to get from the Stork Club to the Polo Grounds in New York, even on a busy day, is not much of a chore, but this fight night was something different. The cars were stacked up for a mile or so and I thought we would never make it, despite the fact that I drove in a car marked "official." When we came across a rare traffic cop, he could not read that sign or was a Jeffersonian, believing that all men are equal. When we finally reached the Polo Grounds, we found that the Jeffersonian doctrine was still prevalent, for the gatekeeper let in those who had tickets and those who had not tickets. We all went in together. A great argument has developed over this doctrine of equality. Bill Fugazy maintaining that if a man paid for his seat, he was entitled to it, but if he did not pay, he should not be permitted to enter. Police Commissioner Kennedy maintained that a fight is a private enterprise and the entrepreneur should spend his money to see that the gates are properly manned. Whichever side of this controversy prevails, the disorder at the gates was a sight to behold.

Once we got in, it was something of a chore to find the proper seat, the ushers not being familiar with the layout. Also, it was being whispered that the ushers performed no service unless properly tipped which was a new device for getting money without paying income tax. I know that more persons sat in my $100 row than there were seats for.

The place was jammed, tickets or no tickets. It was said that 40,000 persons were at the Polo Grounds. It looked like more to me. Anyway, I took a look in the press section and there were some faces I knew, having been in this business close on to half a century, boy and man, but there were many whom I never saw in any form of newspaper work. Between the press section and the 100 seats was a space, probably for people to walk. This space filled up and nobody threw the bums and free-loaders out.

The ring was at time invisible. Where I sat, there were some policemen, but they and the firemen came in uniform to see the fight.

The actual fight involved a Swede with a very white skin. He trained at Grossinger's up in the Catskill Mountains and I wondered whether his diet included marinated herring and chopped chicken liver. The other fighter was an American Negro who seemed to want to lick the Swede right from the start. It was all over in a few minutes and then the real fight started — the fight to get out of the Polo Grounds and home. I was very lucky. Our car stood behind Governor Rockefeller's. So, accompanied by a detachment of horse police, we followed the Governor's car like a cortege.

The Allen-Scott Report

Face Wage Filibuster

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott
Washington, June 29 — Congressional leaders are reconsidering their plans to adjourn during the week-end of July 8-9.

Faced with the threat of a prolonged Senate debate on legislation increasing the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour, the Senate House leaders are now discussing a recess until after the political conventions.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D., Tex.) is proposing that Congress return during the first week in August to act on all remaining "must" bills before the presidential campaign opens September 1. Senator Johnson, in private talks with other leaders, has frankly reported that Senate opponents of the minimum wage bill have warned that they are planning a "little filibuster" in order to seek major changes in the legislation.

"Opponents of the minimum wage bill have notified me that they need at least five days and maybe more to present their arguments and amendments," reported Johnson. "If they take that long, I don't see how we can adjourn next week and still act on all the 'must' bills that are pending. It would be much better to come back here during the first week in August and spend the month enacting a legislative program that would give the 86th Congress an impressive record." The Senate Majority leader is insisting that before Congress quits it should pass:

Legislation boosting the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour; Medical care program for the aged;

A billion dollar school construction bill;

A billion dollar omnibus housing bill;

New sugar "quota" legislation; Legislation increasing the number of federal district and circuit judges;

A seven and one-half percent pay increase for postal and government workers;

And, all appropriation bills, including $3.6 billion for the President's foreign aid program.

The adjournment plans of the Congressional leaders are also being influenced by the worsening of U.S.-Cuban relations.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.) is conferring with top White House and State Department aides to determine if the President wants Congress to remain in session during Soviet Premier Khrushchev's August visit to Cuba.

The purpose: To give the President emergency powers if Khrushchev stirs up a new U.S.-Cuban crisis during his visit to Havana.

The final decision on whether Congress will come back in August is going to be made over the Fourth of July weekend after the congressional leaders confer with President Eisenhower. The meeting with the President is expected to come later this week.

Split Over Veto — President Eisenhower's advisers are split wide open on whether he should veto legislation increasing the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour.

Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, already has notified Senate GOP leaders that he is prepared to recommend a veto if Congress approves the full 25 cents an hour increase voted by both the House and Senate Labor Committees.

"If the increase in the minimum wage goes above $1.15, I'll be forced to recommend a veto," reported Saulnier in a private meeting with GOP leaders. "With economic conditions as uncertain as they are, it is very unwise for congress to vote increases that don't go into effect until 1963. That's three years away and nobody can tell at what level the economy will be operating then."

Labor Secretary James Mitchell is taking just the opposite position.

Discussing the minimum wage bill with GOP members of the house Mitchell told the senators that he would urge the President to sign the bill.

"If Congress approves $1.25, I believe the President should sign the bill. I will urge him to do so. I don't believe we should give the Democrats another issue for the 1960 campaign, and that is just what we will be doing if the President vetoes that bill."

The legislation now pending before the Senate and House boosts the $1 minimum to $1.25 in three steps and brings five million more persons under the law.

The House is expected to vote on the bill later this week.

First Things First — Congress hasn't passed a medical insurance plan for the elderly taxpayers, but it's taken care of members in pretty fair shape. All members of Congress and their staffs are eligible for government-sponsored group health insurance starting July 1, an arrangement that will cost $200,000 next year . . . Civil Defense Director Leo A. Hoegh, former governor of Iowa, has found a new selling point for the radiation fallout shelters that his agency is trying to popularize. Displaying a model home shelter for members of Congress, Hoegh pointed out that "protection from fallout is only one of its benefits. You can also use it as an office, a game room, and a refuge from your children or constituents."

Aids Variety

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.
It's time for our monthly review of advances in the medical field. And there are a number of new drugs and techniques I want to discuss today.

One of the new drugs, Eliptin, is designed to produce better control of epilepsy.

The drug is reported to be particularly effective when used in conjunction with other anticonvulsants. It has been clinically tested for more than three years and is available only through a doctor's prescription.

Synthetic Penicillin
Another new drug is Syndecon, the first combined medication containing the new synthetic penicillin. It is designed to combat upper respiratory infections accompanying colds and influenza.

It is available through prescription in tablet and soluble powder form.

Rheumatic Diseases
A new anti-arthritis and anti-inflammatory analgesic, Arthropan, may prove to be of considerable value in the prolonged treatment of pain in crippling rheumatic diseases.

The drug is reportedly absorbed five times as fast as aspirin. Peak therapeutic blood levels usually are attained in ten to 15 minutes. Equivalent quantities of aspirin, researchers report, usually require more than two hours to attain such blood levels.

New agents are now available for clinical trial in patients with clots in the circulatory system.

Fibrinolysin, a naturally-occurring clot-dissolving enzyme, and streptokinase, an agent which activates the body's own fibrinolysin, are helpful in treating many types of blood clots.

Detects Heartburn
Another new development is the use of a tiny electrode to detect a severe, chronic form of heartburn, which sometimes is mistaken for ulcers or heart disease.

The electrode is passed through the nasal passages into the esophagus to a location just above the juncture with the stomach. There it detects pressures to the esophagus and minute changes in acid balance, thereby revealing the true nature of the disturbance.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
S. A. R.: I am 72 years old and have had a sore on my foot for four years. The doctor now wants to amputate the third toe on this foot, claiming this will facilitate healing of my foot.

May I have your opinion on this?

Answer: A sore on the foot which has lasted four years is usually a form of gangrene associated with hardening of the arteries, diabetes or other conditions.

Amputation is often necessary in such cases.

From The Realm Of Stamps

By Ray Patton

August 29 will see the issuance of the four-cent stamp to commemorate the Fifth World Forestry Congress at Seattle, Wash. It will feature the Congress seal in vertical format.

This seal features a globe in the upper portion, over which is a stylized tree flanked by symbols representing the multiple uses of forest land.

Wild life is presented by a deer, by a water-fall, timber harvesting by a stump and axe, outdoor recreation by a hiker and grazing by a sheep. These resource uses are world wide though may be more widely developed in the United States than anywhere else.

The official emblem was designed by Maurice H. Eysenburgh, of the Division of Visual Services, United States State Department and Rudolph Wendelin of the Graphic Arts Division, Department of Agriculture. The stamp will be printed in green.

The United Nations will also issue, on August 29, a four and eight-cent set of stamps to honor the Fifth World Forestry Congress. The stamps will be multicolored and photographic printed by the Government Printing Bureau, Tokyo, Japan.

Colors will be the same for both values dark blue, dark green, two shades of blue and orange. The designer of this set is O. Hammann (Denmark) of the United Nations Graphic Presentation. His design was selected from the 30 submitted to the United Nations Postal Administration from all parts of the world.

This will be the second set of stamps the United Nations has printed in Japan. Apparently the Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East issue was well received and the new type of multicolor stamps was more than satisfactory to the U.N. Postal Administration.

MUSIC CONTRIBUTION—Mrs. John Wellington (seated), president of the Anna Logan Auxiliary, presents Monroe County Hospital Superintendent Harry J. Smith with the first record of a music system the Auxiliary has donated to the hospital. Standing (l. to r.) are Mrs. Thomas Metzgar, music committee chairman, and Mrs. Elwood Hintze, past president.

Hospital Presented With 'Music'

RECORDS and turntables were presented to the Monroe County General Hospital by the Anna Logan Auxiliary in memory of Dr. and Mrs. William R. Levering last Tuesday.

The president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. John Wellington, and past president Mrs. Elwood Hintze made the presentation to hospital Superintendent Harry J. Smith.

A record player and amplification system have been placed in the X-ray department, making possible music during long waiting periods.

A plaque commemorating the gift has been placed in the foyer of the hospital. Another record player, an amplifier for the rest of the hospital and a locked record cabinet have been purchased.

Control Sessions
The switch board operators control the three one-hour sessions, late morning, afternoon, and night.

The Music Committee, Mrs. Thomas Metzgar, Mrs. Horace Butler, and Mrs. Arthur Stackhouse are in charge of selecting and cataloging the music. Any contributions of records would be appreciated.

Lions Pay Tribute To Independence

THE ANNUAL tribute to Independence Day and to traditions of Patriotism was staged in the Fenn Stroud hall room Tuesday night. Attendance at the dinner fete went up by more than 50 per cent.

The Lions had their ladies and many Lionesses in attendance at the event.
Former president William P. Deering, program chairman, explained the D. W. Brogan theory that the two decades covering the Civil War were a supreme history-ridge in America.

Deering noted that the folk-life and art of a people express their aspirations and explain historical events, adding that observation of the birthdays of the American Republic give a good explanation of the functioning of the Civil War decades.

Tribute to the Nation's birthday was given by Dr. Robert Brown, long Superintendent of the Stroudsburg schools. He urged a return to basic enthusiasm and dedication, scoring Communism and all its works.

"My Darlin' Nellie Gray", epitomizing the tragedy of slavery, was rendered by Mrs. Joseph Barnes of Stroudsburg, and sang the plantation negro spiritual "Oh Lord, What a Morning" as an encore.

The happy birthday song was sung to president-elect Dr. Paul Maxwell and former president Seymour Kaiz.

Mrs. Irene Torzillo, born on the Fourth in Boston, was introduced to a chorus of George M. Cohan's "Yankee Doodle Dandy", accompanied by organist Charles McCarthy on the piano.

Conducted by Paul Maxwell, with Robert Haigh leading the Lion songsters, Abraham Lincoln's wartime favorite, "The Blue Tail Fly" was sung.

Invalid Hurt In Collapse

MESHOPEEN, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Blanche Roberts, an invalid, was setting in her living room yesterday when a truck loaded with coal came down the mountain, demolished her enclosed porch and opened a side of the house.

Flying debris injured her slightly.

Richard Gardner, 21, of Elkland, driver of the truck, said his brakes failed and he was unable to make a curve at the foot of the steep slope in this Wyoming County community.

Coast Guard Ups Quota For Area

THERE was good news last night for high school graduates who have hoped to fulfill their military obligation with the country's oldest seagoing branch of the armed forces.

Petty Officer First Class Albert J. Ryzner, Officer in Charge at the Coast Guard Recruiting Station, 19 North Main Street, Wilkes-Barre (Veteran's Building) said that there are a number of vacancies open for enlistment in the Coast Guard for this area for the months of July and August.

Questioned about the large number of vacancies, Petty Officer Ryzner said the reason "was to give young graduates a chance to fulfill a wish to serve in the Coast Guard."

He said only young men, between 17 and 26, possessing normal Intelligence, good moral character and physical fitness will be considered for enlistment. Petty Officer Ryzner noted that he has a number of Petty Officer ratings available for ex-servicemen who can qualify. There are 26 fields of technical training available which lead to petty officer ratings and increase in pay.

For further information concerning enlistments contact the recruiting station in person Monday thru Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and Saturdays 9:00 a.m. until noon, or phone: Valley 4-9123.

Dingmans' Carnival Dates Set

THE Dingmans Ferry Fire Co. will hold its annual Firemen's carnival on the grounds of the Dingmans Ferry School on the night of June 30, July 1 and 2, starting at 6 p.m.

The entire membership of the fire company and its auxiliary have ended weeks of preparation for this year's carnival on the "Gay 90's" theme in which all booths are decorated and all members costumed.

The 26 booths range from such perennial favorites as Bingo and the cake wheel to new ones such as "Dance the Fireman" and "Muffin Tin." The booths are judged and there is hearty competition among the members for the coveted honor of having the Best Decorated Booth.

As usual, there will be an abundance of food including home-made cake and pies, as well as a hamburger stand and a new ice-cream and soda dispensary.

Each night will feature a Turf Derby, "always a favorite event, and any child with a turtle is welcome to compete. There will be prizes for the young owners of the fleetest entrants. For the adults there will be sack races and other contests and a special prize each night. On Saturday the carnival will be climaxed by the awarding of the Grand Prize of a trip for two to the West Indies, and a giant aerial display of fireworks.

The yearly carnival, the largest event on the calendar of the small resort village engages the efforts of almost the total population, as well as many week-end and summer residents who exchange their urban cares for the bucolic problems of food and games under the white pines.

The carnival is patronized by surrounding vacation spots which depend on the Fire Company for protection in this beautiful but potentially hazardous conifer forest.

Dear Abby

All Kinds Of People

Dear Abby: How come there are all kinds of laws to protect such dirty, rotten things as dogs? It looks to me like dogs have more rights than people. Just let me do all the things dogs do and I'd be in jail.

Why is a dog's life worth any more than a skunk's or a wolf's or a fox's? A dog should be treated like any other animal that does damage and goes where it doesn't belong. I think a man should have the right to protect his own property against a dog if he has to take down his gun and start shooting.

DOG HATER
Dear Dog Hater: Whoever heard of a skunk, a wolf or a fox saving a life? Or leading the blind? Or protecting a child? Or guarding a home? Or bringing comfort, affection and companionship to a master? Better leave your gun where it is, my friend.

Dear Abby: I've been married for three months to a man who can do everything I can do—but he can do it better and in half the time. He's a much better cook than I am. He loves to wash and iron. And his baking could take a prize. He was the eldest of 12 children and his mother was a widowed invalid, which accounts for it.

I hate housework, but I love business. I had six girls and two men in my department before I quit my job to get married. (My husband was one of the men in my department; my salary almost doubled his.)

MARY AND MOREY
Dear M. and M.: All a marriage needs to succeed is two people whose common objective is making each other happy. Don't worry about what "people say". Do as you please.

Dear Abby: I was employed by a well-known firm for 21 years. I achieved a fine position and excellent pay. Being a single woman I was frequently invited to dinners and theaters by some traveling business associates. Everything was above board, and I never saw the inside of a hotel room.

Imagine my horror when I was called as a witness in a divorce case! I had had about 12 dates with this married man over a period of two years. They could find nothing immoral in our relationship, but the questions put to me were humiliating and insulting. I'll never get over it. My firm "suggested" I resign, which I did gladly, as I couldn't face my co-workers after all that nasty publicity. Maybe printing this letter will put the brakes on some unsuspecting girl who dates married business acquaintances. I wish I had had such a warning.

SILLY SALLY
Confidential To "Waiting To Get Even": Revenge is like biting a dog back because the dog bit you. And it makes about as much sense. Forget it.

Abby's best-selling book, "Dear Teen-Ager" is on sale at all bookstores.

Green Thumb

Use Sharp Tools For Flowers

By George Abraham

MORE Mileage From Flowers: What's the best way to stretch the life of cut flowers indoors? Your first step is to use sharp tools. Breaking or twisting off the flowers injures the remaining wood. A sharp knife is better than a pair of shears. You can cut either on a slant or straight across, but any gardener will tell you it's a lot easier to cut on a slant.

The time of day you cut flowers makes some difference, although many disagree on this point.

Recent studies indicate that flowers cut after sundown have more starch and sugars in them than those which are cut in morning or at noon, therefore last longer.

We once recommended plunging cut flowers in cold water, but now it's hot water — 110 degs. or so. The reason is that hot water is thinner than cold water, and thus goes up the stems easier.

Cool Room

Place the flowers in a cool room, free from drafts, to reduce the amount of water the tops give off. Use a vase with a large neck, rather than one with a small opening. To give other flowers more room to develop, a withered individual flower in a cluster should be removed.

Are commercial flower preservatives helpful? Yes, to a degree, as they prevent rotting or bacterial growth in the water. The best tip I have for longer-lasting cut flowers includes cutting one inch off the stem every day. Forget such items as aspirin, cough remedies, etc., in the water because they have little or no effect on the lasting quality.

Incidentally, during the first season in blossom, perennial flowers should be cut with very short stems only. Even when plants are fully grown, at least two leaves should be left on between the cut and the main stem.

Straw Mulch

Straw Mulch: Some gardeners like a hay or straw mulch for their strawberries and other crops in the vegetable or flower garden. Straw or hay makes a good mulch although it's not so pretty to look at. It won't blow away once it has settled. Wheat, oats, buckwheat and timothy hay are good mulches, but the main disadvantage is weed seeds, as well as grain seed.

Hay and straw decompose quite rapidly so they are good for one season only.

After that, they may be dug up or plowed under to enrich the soil and to condition it. Straw or hay should be put on about 5 inches thick. Don't forget to add some balanced plant food to the soil after the straw or hay is plowed under.

One disadvantage for these mulches: during dry weather they do present a fire hazard. Also, mice sometimes work underneath them. Next week: Is Excelsior any good as a mulch?

Question Box

QUESTION of the Week: J.J. of Tafton: "Each year our hollyhocks come up fine, and then about mid-June or later they start to turn brown and dry up. What causes this? I know it's not lack of water because we give ours plenty of water."

Your trouble is hollyhock rust, a fungus disease that troubles just about all hollyhocks. Red-brown pustules about 1/16 inch in diameter develop on the undersides of the leaves and on the stems. Older leaves dry up, making the plants unsightly. The fungus lives over the winter on dead tops and within the living crown of the plants.

Control: Collect and burn tops and leaves of hollyhocks in late summer and fall. Next spring start dusting plants with sulfur at weekly intervals, as soon as growth begins. Rust is also prevented by weekly applications of ferbam at rate of 1 1/4 level tablespoons plus dry wettable sulfur, 2 level tablespoons, or zineb 1-1 1/2 level tablespoons per gallon.

V.M. of Stroudsburg: "I planted a hedge of Chinese elm for a windbreak. Someone said it can be trimmed into a neat hedge just as you would privet. True?"

Yes, you can grow this as an ideal windbreak, or as a formal hedge. It is the first to leaf out in the spring and one of the last to shed in late fall. The more you trim it, the more dense and compact it becomes. If you want it for a windbreak, allow it to grow without shearing. It can be controlled to grow any height you want. Plants are perfectly hardy, are free from Dutch elm disease, but they do get elm leaf spot and elm leaf beetle.

Could anyone deny this baby a few minutes?

Certainly not the mother or father. And surely you, a stranger, would not begrudge a few minutes of your time to protect this baby's life—perhaps your own, too.

Driving faster than road conditions or the law allows can shorten your trip no more than two or three minutes. Such an insignificant saving—is it worth the risk of a precious life? For minutes like these can often mean the difference between life and death.

Last year, nearly 40,000 men, women and children died in traffic accidents. In 3 out of 10 fatal crashes, speeding was a factor. Think how many lives just minutes might have saved...and slow down!

Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself.

Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection.

Work actively with others to support your local Safety Council.

Remember—where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go down.

Dr. Jones Will Deliver Address On Welsh Day

BANGOR — Dr. D. Lewis Jones, of Worcester, Mass., will deliver the Welsh sermon at the 30th annual Welsh Day festival scheduled here Sept. 3-4, Albert Foulkes, program conductor, announced today.

Dr. Jones formerly held pastorates at Slattington, Granville, N.Y., Balston Spa, N.Y., and Jersey City, N.J., and delivered the sermon at the National Welsh Festival when it was held in Washington, D.C.

At the same time it was disclosed that the Rev. Reese T. Williams, pastor of the Congregational Church at Oswego, N.Y., will be the guest preacher at the open-air service Sunday afternoon.

As a young man, he served as pastor of the former Welsh M.E. Church here. He served later at New Castle and at Bethesda Welsh Church, Utica, N.Y.

This year's Welsh Day will honor Mrs. Mary King Thomas, who sang in Bangor 50 years ago as a member of the North Wales Choir which made an appearance in the Music Hall Theater. Mrs. King is returning to Bangor for the first time since that initial visit.

A former resident of Milwaukee, Wis., and now living in Arizona, Mrs. Thomas has written many newspaper articles and has consistently followed Welsh engagements. Last year, in collaboration with Mrs. M. D. Thomas, of Menlo Park, Calif., she organized a choir which sang at the National Elstedd-fod in Wales.

Interest in this year's Welsh Day appears keener than ever, Foulkes reports. There have been many inquiries concerning reservations and program details and there is every indication that the festival, again given the whole-hearted support of the community, will be an overwhelming success.

Another daughter, Vola, deceased in 1929 was represented there by two of her children, Dorothy Blitz Price and Lafayette Blitz. Another son, Harry, deceased in 1959 was represented by his widow, Blanche, and daughter, Dorothy Price Bush.

of Mr. and Mrs. James Price, Mr. and Mrs. H. Balmors, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Price, and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wicks. A fifth set, children of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. McKenna, were not in attendance.

Service was "Pioneer style" with the women pitching in, and some men too, to make the kitchen hum with a festive air. The sound of rattling dishes, the high pitch of laughter, sounds of broken glass, splattering liquid, crying and giggling children, all blended together to make the occasion one to be long remembered.

New Move Afoot

By William A. Doyle
Q. Is it possible to exchange a large portfolio of individual stocks for shares of a mutual fund as net asset value, without paying a capital gains tax to the Federal Government?

A. Until recently, such a move was just about impossible — unless all those stocks you mention were in some such thing as a personal holding company or a private investment company.

Now, there's a new move afoot. Centennial Fund, with headquarters in Denver, Colo., has been set up to accomplish just what you have in mind. The word around the financial district is that the idea has been well received.

As a result, there will probably be a number of similar funds organized in the future. This could be a big help, tax-wise, for both big and small investors. After all, nobody is exactly happy about the idea of selling their stocks, paying out a big chunk of their profits in Federal capital gains taxes and having that much less to reinvest.

Q. The annual report of Twin Coach Co. shows that the earnings per share of common stock amounted to $3.30 in 1959. But this stock has traded at or below $10 a share recently. That is only three times earnings. Other stocks sell at much higher price-earnings ratios — some at 20 times earnings or even higher.

The quarterly dividends of 15 cents a share on this stock has been resumed. Even so, the stock is very lagged in price. Why?

A. It's easy to see that you are an owner of some Twin Coach common stock and would like to see it go up in market price. That's a typical reaction for a stockholder. It's understandable.

But you and all other stockholders should also understand some other things. Yes, Twin Coach common stock earned $3.30 a share last year. But that was down from $7.11 a share in 1958. Earnings for the first three months of this year dipped to 43 cents a common share, from 70 cents in the like period of 1959.

The company lost money in 1955, 1956 and 1957. It has been an in-and-out performer and is rated as a speculation.

That 15-cent-per-share dividend has not been designated as a "quarterly dividend. Whether or not that amount will be paid every three months remains to be seen. Before that recent dividend, the last cash dividend was 7 1/2 cents a share on Dec-

Bebington New Solicitors Prexy

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Bucks County man, Frederick T. Bebbington of Yardley, is the new president of the Pennsylvania Boroughs Solicitors Assn.

The organization is affiliated with the Pennsylvania State Assn. of Boroughs, now holding its annual convention here.

Bebington succeeds Horace Thomas Jr. of nearby Brackenridge. Other new officers, whose election was announced Tuesday, are:

Robert Kistler, State College, vice president; Musser W. Getting, Bellefonte; Marvin A. Lexington, Elwood City, and Fred W. Deining, of Phoenixville, Chester County, members of the board.

Q. What would you say about a company which puts out an annual report which does not show the number of shares outstanding and which is not certified by independent auditors or a certified public accountant?

A. I would say don't buy stock in that company.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Storm First Pocono Golf Entry

HAROLD STORM, Glen Brook Country Club golf champion, is the first person to file an entry for the Pocono Mountains Amateur Golf Championship.

The Daily Record sponsored tournament will be held July 30-31 at Glen Brook, and is open to all residents of Monroe, Wayne and Pike Counties and also members of golf clubs in those counties.

"We need a tournament of this kind in the Poconos," says Storm, "and the large number of flights will give 100 shooters a chance to win prizes."

Entries are being accepted at the Sports Desk of The Daily Record. The fee is $6, which includes two days of golf and a buffet on Sunday evening.

Starting time will be allotted according to earliest postmark on entries.

Coates Only Beaten Once In Two Years

Jim Coates, the Yankees' unbeaten right hander, has lost only one game in two seasons with the New Yorkers.

Coates is 9-0 this year, while he posted a 6-1 mark last year with a 2.88 earned run average.

Now that Elmer Valo has been released by the Yankees, Yogi Berra becomes the oldest player on the club. Berra is 35, three months older than Bobby Shantz.

Members of the 1939 major league All-Star teams will be the honored guests at the annual New York Yankees Old Timers' Day program, Saturday, Aug. 13.

New York will host this year's second All-Star game on July 13.

The last All-Star game in Yankee Stadium was the 1939 affair.

Some of the '39 greats expected to be on hand for Old Timers' Day are Joe DiMaggio, Red Ruffing, Bobby Feller, Lefty Gomez, Jimmy Foss, Hank Greenberg, Luke Appling, Johnny "Double No-Hit" Vandemire, Johnny Mize, Stan Hack, Billy Herman, Dolph Camfield, Cookie Lavagetto, Terry Moore and Mel Ott.

Reese, Martin Get Princeton Letters

Evan Reese Jr., currently pitching for Frank Radler's Stroudsburg, has been awarded his freshman baseball numerals at Princeton University. The Tiger freshman squad captained by Reese, posted a 6-5 record.

And Eugene L. Martin Jr., whose dad is the dean of men at East Stroudsburg State College, has been given a junior varsity baseball manager's letter at Princeton.

Joseph E. Bartley, Pike County District Fish Warden, reports in the latest Pennsylvania Fish Commission News that the pike in Lake Wallenpaupack will bite on almost anything.

Prior to the opening of the pike season, several fishermen were trolling for trout and calico bass. One of the anglers hooked such a strong fighting fish that he thought he had caught the biggest fish in the lake.

Hook, Line And The Sinker Too

When he pulled the fish into the boat he discovered that he had caught not one pike but two on his line; one was on the hook and the other was on the sinker and wouldn't let go.

Chuck Connors, who played in 70 games for the Chicago Cubs in 1951 but is better known as the star of the television series "The Rifleman," is going into another field.

His vocal recording of "70 Times 7," a spiritual, will be released this week.

R. C. Cramer Raps Bankers Behind Smoke

R. C. CRAMER Lumber Co. exploded for six runs in the third inning to crush East Stroudsburg National Bank 11-2 in the East Stroudsburg Little League Wednesday.

The winners belted two Bank pitchers for nine hits. Pollan, Smoke and Harrison each had two safeties for the Lumber club.

Smoke went the distance for Cramer, allowing only four hits and fanning nine.

Fitzmaurice, Hammill, Powers and Miller produced the Elks' hits.

Door Open For Talks Says Frick

NEW YORK (AP)—The door was open Wednesday for the existing major baseball leagues and the Continental League to sit down and discuss their problems after the Senate killed the all sports bill.

"The door always is open," said Commissioner Ford Frick of organized baseball. "Mr. Rickey is free to come and talk over his problems with me at any time."

Rickey, issuing a cautious statement of comment on the Senate's action, said he had "an abiding faith that our Senate next January will take favorable action to permit the organization of new major leagues."

Express Confidence Rickey did not spell out the next step by the Continental in his statement, except to express his confidence that the Senate eventually will provide expansion of baseball "not within the monopolistic control of 16 clubs."

Noting his disappointment in the Senate's vote to amend the bill to give baseball the same anti-trust exemptions to be provided for pro football, hockey and basketball, Rickey said the vote to refer the bill back to the judiciary committee was significant "for it indicated the great desire of the Senate to preserve the expansion of baseball in the direction of additional major leagues."

Commissioner Frick, pleased by the Senate's action, insisted baseball's opposition to the proposed bill was in no way pointed toward the Continental League. He said the opposition would have been just as strong if there was no talk of any new league or no thought of expansion.

Frick said it remained his "firm conviction that the way is still open for an expansion program."

Georgia Grid Great Dies

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—Robert L. McWhorter, former Athens mayor, lawyer and a University of Georgia football immortal of two generations ago, died at his home early Wednesday after an illness of several weeks. He was 68.

A halfback, he was the first Georgia player to gain national fame. He played 60 minutes of every game during each of his four years of 1910-13. He scored 61 touchdowns and led the Bulldogs to four victories over Georgia Tech.

Lind, Tchorz Fan 20 As Twin City Routs Stars

TOM LIND and Stan Tchorz teamed for 20 strikeouts, as Twin City TV pounded the Monroe County Softball League All-Stars 11-3 Wednesday at Gordon Giffels Field.

Each pitcher fanned 10. All-Stars in the nine-inning exhibition affair.

Lind worked four innings, allowing two hits and one run. Tchorz pitched the final five frames, giving up two hits and two runs.

Big Squad Jack Chapman rapped two singles and B. Miller and R. Keiper one each for the losers, who used 17 players, including three pitchers.

Carl Roth hit a homerun for the TVers and his teammate Frank Pulli posted a double and a single in five trips.

Jeeter Lester, was tagged with the loss, yielding three runs in four innings.

Stalmer Rapped

Keiper followed Lester on the mound and Stan Stalmer pitched the last two frames.

Stalmer was tagged for seven runs but only three of them were earned.

In the opening game the Industrial All-Star upset the Monroe Stars 9-6.

Line Material's Ike Hine rapped a homerun for the winners, while his teammate Sebring stroked a double, the only other extra-base hit of the game.

Australian Lefties Meet For Wimbledon Title On Friday

WIMBLEDON (AP) — The Wimbledon Tennis Championships took on a familiar look Wednesday when Australian Neale Fraser and Rod Laver shot their way into the men's singles final.

It's the fourth all-Australian title match in the last five years and the first involving a pair of left-handers. Both are former runners-up.

Fraser, 26, a blond Melbourne crusher who was top-seeded, reached his season's finest form in smashing India's Ramanathan Krishnan, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

Laver, 22, a Queenslander, blew both hot and cold in eliminating Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli, 4-6, 6-3, 8-10, 6-2, 6-4.

Meet Friday

The two Australian Davis Cup teammates will clash Friday for the crown, won last year by Alex Olmedo, who since has turned pro. Olmedo beat Laver in the final whereas the year before Fraser had fallen before fellow Australian Ashley Cooper, who also later entered pro ranks.

There were all-Australian finals also in 1956 and 1957, with Lew Hoad first beating Ken Rosewall and then Cooper.

Just as was the case Wednesday, Americans will be on the sidelines Thursday when the women play for finalist berths. Brazil's Mario Bueno, the defending champion, faces Britain's Christine Truman, and South Africa's pretty Sandra Reynolds — she of the rifle forehead — takes on another Briton, left-handed Easy Match.

The most startling development was the ease with which Fraser handed Krishnan, a master tactician whose smooth, cat-like play had won him a horde of supporters. However, this was not Ramanathan's day. First of all, he lacked the delicate touch and precision which had marked his previous triumphs. Also he ran into a revitalized Fraser — a vicious, hard-hitting attacker who kept pressure applied all the way.

The Laver-Pietrangeli match was spotty and neither played up to his potential. There were enough errors to last each a full season.

New indignities were heaped on American tennis when a pair of 19-year-old Australians, Bob Hewitt and Mike Mulligan, eliminated the last U.S. men's doubles team, Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, and Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn.

So U.S. hopes of a piece of Wimbledon silverware were left with the mixed doubles and women's doubles representatives.

JUST BETWEEN US SPORTSMEN

— by Joe Bates, Jr., Guest Columnist

Luck has very little to do with success in fishing. In the long run, it's knowledge and skill that count. An important part of the knowledge is in knowing where the fish should be (and how deep they should be), plus what types of lures to use, and how to use them.

Fish seek shelter, whether it be a weed bed or stump in a lake, or a submerged rock in the current of a stream. If the shelter is near a food supply, so much the better. Weed beds and gravel bars provide food, so we look for fish there. Currents bring food downstream, or spots in lakes or ponds where wave action adds oxygen to the water.

Fish also seek comfortable temperatures. When the water is too warm or too cold near the surface, chances are that they will be down deep — in the kinds of places above mentioned. Adding all this together gives us a good idea of where to fish, and where not to.

Too many lures are made to please the fisherman, rather than the fish. A few well selected lures are better than a whole tackle box of inefficient ones. Take plugs, for instance. Why pay good dollars for a big collection, when a few can do the work of many?

An example of a plug which can do the work of many is the famous "Diamond Jim", which was developed by men who really know their fishing. The "Diamond Jim" can be fished near the surface or deep down. It does the work of every kind of plug except a popper — and it can be fished so near the surface that a popper rarely is necessary.

The thing I like about the "Diamond Jim" is its famous wiggling action. It's a jointed plug that wiggles at both ends, something like a woman hurrying to catch a bus. Its wiggle is the nearest thing to that of a

Braves, Cubs Split Pair

CHICAGO (AP)—Joey Jay, a seldom used starter, hurled Milwaukee's second place Braves to a 3-1 conquest of Chicago in the second game of a doubleheader Wednesday. The Cubs won the opener 3-2 on Bob Will's pinch single with one out in the ninth.

It was only Jay's third start of the season and his first route-going performance. The big right-hander scattered seven hits, three by Ernie Banks, walked five and fanned six.

Three Homers

The Braves, getting only five hits, benefited from three solo homers — two by Joe Adcock and one by Hank Aaron.

The Cubs made their only dent in Jay in the third when Banks doubled with one out. The Chicago shortstop completed the trip on Ed Bouchee's infield out and a sharp single to center by Will.

Bob Anderson drew the second game loss.

Dick Ellsworth, 26-year-old lefty, also limited Milwaukee to five hits in the opener to gain his fourth victory as fireman Ron Piche, working in relief of starter Bob Buhl, took the loss — his third among four decisions.

Green Thumb Author Is Honored

GEORGE ABRAHAM, author of the popular Green Thumb garden feature, appearing in Daily Record and 72 others, was cited last week as one of 7 foremost American garden writers by a panel of judges in Kansas City, Mo.

This is the second National honor to come to Mr. Abraham for his Green Thumb writings. In 1954 Mr. Abraham was cited by the National Garden Bureau in Chicago for outstanding contributions in the field of Horticultural Journalism. Mr. Abraham and his wife, Katy, own and operate the Naples Valley Greenhouse, Naples, N.Y., where many ideas for the column originate. Mrs. Abraham is listed in the 1959 issue of Who's Who of American Women, and Mr. Abraham is listed in the current supplement of Who's Who in America.

Teams With Wife
The award-winning garden writer teams up with his wife to put their down-to-earth ideas before an estimated 2,000,000 gardeners. Doc, as he's commonly known by, and Katy, both studied horticulture and journalism at Cornell University. Recently, The Green Thumb man-and-wife family enterprise was written in full color story by Richard Thruelsen, Associate Editor of The Saturday Evening Post.

Testimony to the popularity of the Green Thumb column is shown by the fan mail he receives. Last year the garden writer received close to 60,000 pieces of mail.

The Green Thumb radio program with Doc and Katy Abraham is heard at 12:15 each Saturday afternoon and is on its 9th year of continuous broadcasting. Much of the material collected over the past years for the column and radio is included in Abraham's forthcoming Green Thumb Garden Handbook.

17-Pound Baby Loses One Pound

ST. HYACINTHEN Que. (AP) — A baby weighing 17 pounds, 2 ounces at birth five days ago has lost one pound.

A nurse at the hospital where the infant son of Mrs. Benoit Beauchemin of Beloeil, was delivered said, however, the drop in weight is normal.

It is possible the boy may be the heaviest baby ever born alive in Canada.

Mrs. Beauchemin's baby, measuring 24 inches in length, is her 13th child. All the other 12 are living. The mother, 38-year-old wife of a farmer, weighed 250 pounds before the birth of the child.
